Ladies Are Crowding Us

Men, Market and Money

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

JOHN HENRY MEARS and Charles R. L. Collier have beaten the "around the world" record by several days. They finished their journey, at Miller, Ky., station island, in 23 days.

When Jules Verne wrote his "Around the World in Eighty Days," men said it was an interesting story, but could never be done. Now it is done in 23 days. And in years it will be done in 24 hours. Man is a very noble creature, a real credit to his Maker. What he can do, he can do.

CAPT. HOPE won the 1,000-mile air race around Britain. Miss Winifred E. Spooner, piloting a tiny biplane, finished three minutes behind the winner. With only three minutes' margin in 1,000 miles, man's superiority is in doubt.

Science wipes out the old inequality. For science, courage and intuition outweigh brute strength and the club.

OUR government will fingerprint every man, woman and child eight violating the liquor laws. If they were ALL caught, Uncle Sam would own a valuable collection of fingerprints.

GERMANS complain that they can't compete with American automobile makers, and their small manufacturers are forced to the wall. All their manufacturers are small compared to ours.

It is lack of skill, but lack of a big selling market. Chevrolet, Chrysler, Ford, Essex and other makers of high-grade automobiles could sell only a few thousand cars a year the $700 car would cost $2,000. The world's greatest sale is an American car.

British used to sing: "We've got the men, we've got the ships, we've got the money, too."

WE can sing: "We've got the men, we've got the ships, we've got the money, too," and 24,000,000 automobiles running to prove it.

POLITICAL news is dull: You can't really get started in July. Republicans say the west is won. There is no need to bother about that.

Democrats say the solid south will surely remain solid. Both, very likely, are right.

HERE and there women announce their determination to beat Smith. You hear from them. You do not hear from their humble husbands, who may be wondering a wet and secret vow to beat the wife's dry vote.

THE Republican campaign radio committee says that about Mr. Hoover works on Aug. 11, 30,000,000 Americans will listen. That would interest the old Greeks, who said no nation could retain its freedom if it got so big that all the citizens could no longer meet in the public square and hear the speakers.

They little dreamed that 30,000,000 would sit in their homes, scattered over a territory 3,000 miles wide, and all hear the same men at the same time.

ELLEN TERRI, after 80 years of happy, successful life, told her friends they must not put on mourning, but wear gay colors and rejoice in her long life, with rest at the end.

SHE was a sensible woman, but mourning is more than honor paid to the dead. It affords relief to those that survive. The widow of India, if permitted, would be burned alive with her husband's body.

Savage widows cut and otherwise mutilate themselves to express grief. To our civilized women a long black veil makes sorrow easier to bear.

TWO Russians, Professor Semakovsky and the aviator, Chukovsky, turned to Page 8.

EXECUTION-DAY SET FOR SLAYER OF HENRY FOOS

Sentence Passed by Judge Scofield After New Trial Is Refused

HEARING HELD

"Verdict Not Justified by Evidence," Is Doomed Man's Statement

Everett Koon, alias Cecil Dean, convicted murderer of Henry Foon, aged Marion township farmer, has been sentenced to die in the electric chair at the Ohio penitentiary.

Sentence was passed by Judge George B. Scofield in common pleas court this morning. The passing of sentence followed immediately after hearing on the prisoner's motion for a new trial. The motion was overruled by Judge Scofield.

Unless there is intervention from some other source, Koon will die in the electric chair sometime between midnight and sunrise on Monday morning, Nov. 5. The date set for the execution is 105 days from the date of sentence. The state law provides that 100 days elapse between date of sentence and date of execution.

After overruling the motion for a new trial Judge Scofield ordered Koon to stand before the bar for sentence. "You have had a fair and impartial trial," Judge Scofield told Koon. He then asked the prisoner if he had anything to say before sentence was passed upon him.

Koon's Brief Statement
Koon answered, "Well, all I have to say is that I don't believe the verdict was justified by the evidence."

Judge Scofield then read the sentence, which decreed death in the electric chair and the transfer of the prisoner from the county jail to the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus within the next 30 days.

As the sentence was passed Judge Scofield and Koon sat down. As he turned to his seat Koon smiled at his attorney, Homer E. Johnson, and at his sister, Emma Saunders, who sat in the courtroom with her six-month-old baby.

Koon had no comment to make other than his statement before sentence was passed. He retained the same silence he has held since he was found guilty on Wednesday, July 11. He was returned to his cell in the county jail, where he will be held until taken to the penitentiary.

Arguments of attorney Johnson, for the defense, and Prosecuting Attorney Wiedemann, and Carter Patton, for the state, were heard.

In Court Contest

Former Marion Woman Plans Fight in Detroit Tribunal To Prevent Extradition on Charge of Kidnaping Four-Year-Old Son

MRS. W. S. YALE, 24, formerly Mrs. Paul Hoch, of Marion, will be arraigned in court at Detroit, July 26, on a fugitive warrant issued on complaint filed by her first husband, who charges her with kidnaping their four-year-old son, Donald Jack Hoch, after the Marion probate judge had awarded custody of the boy to his father. Her second husband, Yale, is also held for complicity in the alleged kidnaping.

Mrs. Yale, who declares she is entitled to custody of the boy part time under the divorce agreement, says she will fight extradition to Marion. The picture above, showing Mrs. Yale and Donald Jack Hoch, was posed especially for the Detroit Times and appeared on the first page of that paper one day last week.

Willard Wolfe, 23, Fremont, Killed Instantly Near Stratford When Car Is Sideswiped; Cincinnati Man Killed by Train; Investigate Bus Crash

Newark: Frank Hukshier, 54, suffered fatal injuries when struck by an auto.

Akron: Russell C. Turner, 23, was killed when his auto overturned near Akron.

Warren: John Thomas, 24, and Myron Manley, 25, were killed when the auto in which they were riding overturned in this city.

Youngstown: Joe Cherry, 15, was killed when struck by a taxi-motorist here.

NIH: John Kenna, 24, suffered fatal injuries when his auto skidded into a ditch at Newton Falls, near here.

GAS COMPANY WINS DECISION IN RATE FIGHT

Judge Approves New Schedule in Newark, Enjoins Vote by People

IMPORTANT RULING

Expected To Have Bearing on Other Cases Pending in Ohio Cities

Newark, July 22—The Logan Gas Co. today stood victorious in its fight for new gas rates in Newark, following the decision of Common Pleas Judge P. O. Day, Jr., of Camden, N. J., that the proposed new rates should go into effect and pending new rates should be set by the city's board of elections.

Newark has been aligned with Marion and other Ohio cities in a fight against gas rate increases.

Cheaper rates are provided for the heavy consumer by the new gas schedule, but it will be more costly to the residents that use very little gas. The new rates provide the charging of $1 for the first 500 cubic feet and 50 cents for every thousand thereafter. The old schedule was 45 cents for the first 500 cubic feet and 45, 55, and 65 cents respectively for the first, second and third thousand thereafter.

This case was really an exact parallel at Fremont where a fight is waging between the manufacturers and the board of elections of Fremont over gas rates for that city. The rates in question at Fremont are exactly the same as was shown here.

In the northern Ohio city, however, a group of manufacturers filed the suit asking that the newly proposed rates go into effect and seeking an injunction against the board of elections. In Newark it was the gas company that filed the suit.

In public utility circles the decision of the Newark court is reported to have a significant meaning, because it may influence and affect the settlement of many gas rate fights in Ohio where nearly the same question is in controversy.

The Newark petition requesting the referendum vote was signed by 1,702 residents, about one-third of the population.

FAMILY ESCAPES AS FIRE DESTROYS HOME

Early Morning Blaze Sweeps J. W. McClung Dwelling, North of Marion

Clad only in their night-clothes and what other few garments they could hastily gather up, members of the family of J. W. McClung were driven from their home on the Upper Sandusky road early yesterday morning by a fire which completely destroyed the building with all of its contents. The loss was estimated by Fire Chief McFarland at $4,000, partly covered by insurance.

Defective wiring is believed by the chief to have caused the fire, which started under the roof of the dwelling, which was of the bungalow type and stood a short distance west of the intersection of the Upper Sandusky and Bayview roads.

Shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday morning members of the family were awakened by smoke and crackling of flames to find the entire house consumed by a fast-moving blaze. Because of the heavy smoke and the fact that the blaze had gained a head start, the family were unable to save anything but a few articles of clothing.

Firemen from the No. 3 station, together with Chief McFarland and several men from the central station, responded to a call sent in by neighbors. Because of there being no water supply, the location being outside the city limits, and the fact that the blaze had gained a head start, the firemen were unable to accomplish much except prevent the spread of the blaze to other buildings.

MAN WHO SAW LINCOLN'S ASSASSINATION IS DEAD

St. Clairsville, July 22—Albert Whitten Rogers, 81, who, as an attendant in Ford's theater, Washington, witnessed the assassination of President Lincoln by John Wilkes Booth, died in St. Clairsville, according to word received here today.

Booth arrived in the 17th St. V. I. during the great rebellion, and on de-mobilization, took a position in the U. S. Postoffice department, and worked nights in Ford's.

TWO MEN IN CRASH
St. Marys, Pa., July 22—Dr. W. H. Miller, 60, prominent physician, and Thomas F. Patton, 22, pilot, were dead today following a crash of a 10-passenger "Dodge" plane Dr. Miller to county headquarters.

Fight Party Planned for Thursday Night By Star

ANYTHING may happen! Some say Gene Tunney, the heavyweight champion, will have no trouble at all when it comes to harding Tom Heener, the challenger, when they meet in New York City Thursday night.

And still others say that there will be a new champion after the big bout with Heener wearing the pugilistic crown.

To give Marion fans, unable to get to New York for the fight, an opportunity of getting a punch-punch account of the battle of 1928, the Marion Star is going to give a fight party.

The party will be held in The Star Auditorium Thursday night. There will be a thousand chairs on the floor of the auditorium and the blow-by-blow story of the fight will be given to the fans.

The Star will have a special telegraph wire direct to the ringside and David J. Walsh, Star sports correspondent, will write the account.

Be in the Star Auditorium Thursday night for the fight party.

REPORTED BETTER CHARGES ZAPPI WITH CRUELTY TO MALMGREN

Russian Correspondent Asserts Swedish Scientist Stripped of Clothing

Moscow, July 21 — Sensational charges that Captain Zappi, one of the survivors of the Italian tragedy, not only abandoned Dr. Finn Malmgren, the Swedish scientist, alive, but also stripped him of his clothing were made today by the correspondent of the Moscow newspaper Vozrozhdenie. The correspondent is about the "Soviet ice-breaker Krasin, which rescued Zappi and Captain Malmgren from their perilous haven on an ice-island.

The correspondent further claims absolute confirmation for the statement that Zappi, when rescued, wore Malmgren's overcoat and heavy wooden socks.

Altogether, the correspondent claimed, Zappi wore three coats and three pairs of heavy socks, while Malmgren, on the ice, was clad in a single pair of socks, his uniform and overcoat.

As a result of his scanty garb, the correspondent charges, Malmgren's legs froze, and his amputation was later necessary.

The correspondent states that a physician who examined the two men after they were rescued found that Zappi had been without food for only five days and not 15 as he claimed. Malmgren, on the other hand, had been suffering the pangs of hunger for a much longer period.

Expecting death momentarily, Malmgren gave Zappi permission to devour his body after he died, the correspondent said.

He declares that while the seven survivors of the Italia rescued by the Krasin were aboard that vessel, they spent much time arguing over the necessity for an international investigation of the Noble expedition.

Professor Samoylovich, head of the Krasin rescue expedition, today stated that when he visited Zappi and Malmgren aboard the Clitta in Alaska, he found them to be Page 5.

According to witnesses, Mounts was driving west on Bellefontaine av. and crossed the intersection of Cherry st. when he turned east off of Cherry onto Bellefontaine av. The bell car was struck a glancing blow by the Chevrolet and flying glass from the windshield struck Miss Beck, who was in the front seat, on the forehead. She was taken to the office of a physician, where her injuries were dressed.

YOUTHS LISTED IN LONG OHIO TRAGEDY TOLL

Floyd Bowman, Marion, and Lee Olmstead, of Near Marango, Die While Swimming

BOTH SCHOOL PUPILS

Bowman, Graduate of Harding High, Perishes in Lake Near Galion

Two deaths from drownings were added to Ohio's heat wave casualty toll yesterday when Floyd Bowman, 18, of Marion, and Lee Olmstead, 17, of near Marango, succumbed while swimming in the vicinity of Marion.

The deaths of the two youths were included in a list of more than a score of drownings in the state.

Following his vacation period, which was to have ended today, Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Bowman, of 483 Reed av., was drowned while swimming in Sugar Grove lake, near Galion, at 8:30 o'clock last night.

Bowman's death occurred while he was attempting to reach shore after a half hour's swimming.

In company with Roy Better, of 274 Forest av., Bowman entered the water shortly after partaking of a picnic supper with the Better family at the lake. The two had just decided to leave the water when the drowning occurred.

Cremation of the body of Bowman was held at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. I. Bowman, of Galion, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The body was taken to the funeral home of J. O. Schaffner, of Galion, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Bowman had just returned Saturday from a vacation in the southern part of the state. He had been employed days as a mechanic by the Grand company here and nights at the Better service station, Mt. Vernon av.

Planned to Attend School
The Marion youth graduated from Harding high school last June and had planned to enter the International Business school, Fort Wayne, Ind., in the fall.

Surviving, besides his parents, are two brothers, Clifford and James Bowman, and one sister, Irene Bowman, all of Marion.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at his home and 2 o'clock at the First Church of the Brethren. The Rev. Walter B. Landow, of Lima, will officiate and burial will be in Marion cemetery.

The body was taken to the Whittier Mortuary, at Galion, late last night and will be in care of Schaffner. Turn to Page 5.

EARLY COMPLETION OF THEATER LIKELY

Palace May Be Ready for Opening Before September. Superintendent Says

That the Palace, Marion's new picture and vaudeville theater at West Center and Campbell sts., may open before Labor day, the tentative date planned for the formal opening, was indicated this morning by Superintendent Altman, who is in charge of the construction of the building.

While no definite time for the opening has been fixed, progress of work has been such that the event will be possible before September, the superintendent said.

Plastering and electrician are now working and rapid progress is being made. Plastering on the second floor of the building has been practically completed and the white decorative moulding is being applied in both the theater proper and in the foyer.

A double iron staircase leading from the foyer to the balcony has also been completed.

FIVE DROWN
St. Marys, Pa., July 22—All of the bodies of the five persons drowned in Lake St. Marys, Pa., were recovered today. The bodies of the three men who were drowned on Saturday, July 21, had been recovered.

EXPERT TO PRESENT VIEWS

Discussed Over Radio

Platform pronouncements of both parties on the foreign policy will be subjected to the scrutiny of an expert at 6 o'clock Tuesday night when Walter Lippmann, author and authority on foreign and domestic politics, speaks on the Voters' Service program under the joint auspices of the National Broadcasting Co. and the National League of Women Voters.

The broadcast is the second of the new fortnightly series which will consider in turn the important planks in the Republican and Democratic platforms in their social, economic and political significance.

The speaker is a member of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. In 1917 he was assistant secretary of war, later becoming secretary of the organization to prepare data for the peace conference. His books cover a wide field of poetry and prose and he is a constant contributor to magazines.

When Tummy and Honey begin to hammer each other on July 26, where will you be?

Will you be hanging around the front of some store, will you be trying to hear a neighbor's radio through the window, will you be struggling with an old-fashioned set of your own, or will you be sitting in a comfortable chair with family and friends around hearing every word and mentally "seeing" every move of the fighters?

This last means a modern receiving set, but not necessarily an expensive one.

SMITH TO MAKE FINAL DRAFT OF HIS SPEECH

Week of Aug. 20 Likely To See Nominee Giving Acceptance Address

Albany, N. Y., July 23.—Although the date for his notification has not been fixed because of radio complications, Gov. Al Smith expects to make a final draft of the week of the address he will deliver on that occasion, it was indicated today.

Because he will deal extensively with every campaign issue in his notification speech, particularly prohibition and farm relief, the governor is determined to have the ceremony broadcast through radio stations in every part of the country. As yet, however, he has not been able to obtain assurances from the National Broadcasting Co. that the nationwide hookup can be secured for the hours on the night he has in mind.

It is understood the governor has settled on the week of Aug. 20 for the notification and that he would prefer either Wednesday or Thursday night if proper radio arrangements can be made.

The notification ceremony will be held on the steps of the state capitol where for 20 years the governor has been a familiar figure, first as a member of the assembly, then as leader of that body, and finally as chief executive.

In front of the capitol there is a spacious park which can easily accommodate the 100,000 Democrats expected to attend for the event.

Mayor John Boyd Thacher this week will announce the appointment of a committee of leading citizens to aid in planning the details of the ceremony.

The mayor already has announced that on the night of the notification all streets in the vicinity of the capitol will be closed to traffic.

Indications are that the governor will remain at the mansion all week. On Thursday night with Mrs. Smith and members of the family he will go to Schenectady for the wedding of the daughter of former Lieut. Gov. George R. Linn.

May Meet Ritchie
There is a possibility that the governor may confer the latter part of this week with Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland.

"I don't know as there is anything in particular that I would like to talk to Governor Ritchie about, but I would like to see him just the same," Smith said.

Mrs. Smith and other members of the family are understood to have urged the governor to take a short vacation either in the Adirondacks or the White mountains after he completes his notification speech.

FALL CAUSES DEATH OF CONRAD NICKEL

Accident Two Weeks Ago Proved Fatal to Veteran Huber Co. Employee

Funeral services for Conrad Nickel, 70, who died at his home, 290 Barabara st., Saturday afternoon, will be held at the Schaffner-Queen funeral home, East Center st., at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Herbert F. Weckmuller, pastor of First Reformed church, will officiate and burial will be in Marion cemetery.

Mr. Nickel succumbed to complications resulting from a fall suffered two weeks ago. He had been employed as a moulder at the Huber Manufacturing Co. for 30 years. He was a member of the local Druids lodge and a member of First Reformed church.

Mr. Nickel, a native of Germany, was born Aug. 4, 1861. He was the son of Conrad Nickel and Marguerite Probst, who preceded him in death. He was married in Germany, Nov. 2, 1877 to Miss Elizabeth Kuntz, who survives him. Mr. and Mrs. Nickel celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last November.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Vlach of 347 South Vine st., and Mrs. Van Meredith, of Cardington. He is also survived by four grandchildren. The body may be viewed at his late home until Tuesday noon, when it will be removed to the Schaffner-Queen funeral home for funeral services.

VETS HOLD PICNIC

More Than 50 Present at Spanish War Soldiers' Outing

While no rain fell at the grove during the entire day, the threatening weather yesterday interfered with the tri-county picnic held by Spanish War Veterans at Galt's grove in Prospect to the extent that a program planned for the day was abandoned.

In spite of the weather, more than 50, including veterans and their families, gathered at the grove yesterday morning. A picnic dinner at noon was a feature. Veterans from Waldo, Bucyrus, Delaware and Marion were included in the company.

The fourth Sunday in July was fixed as the date for the tri-county picnic next year, to be held at the same place.

Hoover to Demonstrate Good Health on Short Camping Trip

NOMINEE WILL TAKE CAMERAMAN, WRITERS

Candidate Hopes To Silence All Democratic Innuendos

RESUMES WORK ON TALK

Also To Meet Johnson Today! To Discuss Plans for Campaign

Palo Alto, Cal., July 23.—The four-day camping and fishing trip, on which Herbert Hoover will take his newspaper and photographer family to the Klamath river in Northern California next week, will silence all Democratic innuendos against his health, it was declared here today by his closest friends.

The Hoover outing, arranged at first to give the Republican nominee some rest and recreation before plunging into his campaign for the presidency, they said, will demonstrate once and for all that he enjoys the best of health, has a powerful physique and is subject to none of the physical weaknesses that usually undermine office executives.

On the trip, the nominee and his party will ride about 800 miles in motor cars, travel by mule-back into the Sierran range to reach the Hoover fishing lodge, live out in the open by day and sleep beneath the stars at night. It was a question here whether the "tenderfoot" members of his party could match the pace certain to be set by the nominee.

Spends Quiet Day

For some weeks past, rumors have reached his advisers that the Democratic plan attacks on Hoover's health. Such subtle campaigns have been known to rob a candidate of thousands of votes and the Hoover managers now feel the camping trip will destroy the effect of such attacks. They declare Hoover will show he can climb mountains, sleep in the open, get his meals at a campfire and come home in better health and spirits than when he left.

The nominee spent Sunday quietly at his home. With Mrs. Hoover and his son, Allan, he attended divine service at the university chapel and heard a sermon by Rev. Royce Tupper, a Presbyterian minister of Los Angeles. The divine voiced an appeal for religious freedom to which Hoover listened attentively. He first declared Christianity was "spiritual" and that "There can be no mathematical demonstration of God."

Meets Johnson

"God keep America the land of unlimited opportunity and freedom," the minister concluded, "and above all, keep this a land of unrestricted religious and personal liberty."

The services were in keeping with this thought. Hoover, a Quaker, attended them with his neighbors of different creeds. Some Catholics were in the pews and the services were conducted on a non-sectarian, non-denominational program.

The nominee resumed work this morning on his acceptance speech. He hoped to conclude it by the middle of the week. At noon, he was to resume his role of candidate by playing host to Senator Hiram Johnson, his one-time political foe. Johnson has endorsed him and Hoover asked the senator here to discuss plans for the coming campaign. By this action, Hoover averted any possibility of a split in the Republican party in California, such as cost Charles Evans Hughes the state in 1916 and brought about the election of Woodrow Wilson.

JUDGE URGES LAWS TO AID CHILDREN

Regulations Needed for Marriage and Divorce, McNeal Says in Club Talk

During the need for national marriage and divorce laws as one of the greatest in which delinquency among children might be lessened, L. B. McNeal, judge of Marion county, discussed the need for such laws at a talk given at the Marion County Club yesterday. The speaker cited a number of cases of juvenile delinquency which had come before him while he was on the bench and asserted that 90 per cent of the juvenile delinquency cases are traced to the home. He blamed parents for separation and divorce cases for this delinquency. V. C. Smith was in charge of today's program.

KOON SENTENCED TO DIE NOV. 5

state, on the new trial motion required little more than a half hour. Attorney Johnson based his arguments on the contention that the element of robbery did not enter into the case until after the fight between Koon and Mr. Foss in which the latter received injuries which caused his death. In overruling the motion Judge Scofield touched particularly on this point. He pointed out that from the evidence it was plainly shown that had Koon tried to leave the house after the entry of Mr. and Mrs. Foss he would have had ample time. After hearing the telephone conversation between Mr. Foss and Mrs. Mahaffey, a neighbor, Koon knew that there was something of value in the house, and he waited in the cellar with the intention of getting whatever it was, Judge Scofield said. In closing his remarks Judge Scofield said, "There is no doubt as to the intention of the prisoner. It is evident that he waited for Mr. Foss and with all the malice and degeneracy one could have, hit him."

Daily Proverb—"If God bids thee draw, He will find thee a rope, and if He bid thee ride He will find thee a horse."

If Gene Tunney continues his lectures on literary attainments much longer, somebody is liable to break right out and laugh.

His Spirit of Loyalty.

Big Bill Tilden has for years been a thorn in the side of certain gentlemen in control of the activities of the United States Lawn Tennis association. In fact, Big Bill is known as the stormy petrel of American tennis.

Just now Big Bill is in the sporting limelight again. He has been removed from the Davis Cup team, which is abroad. His removal means, more than likely, that America's chances of regaining this coveted international trophy are in peril.

Despite his expressed feeling of injustice, Tilden has the true spirit of sportsmanship. "We will win the cup yet," said he. "I hereby apply for the position as trainer of the American team!"

The United States Lawn Tennis association has been seeking Big Bill's scalp for several years. It is because he is at odds with the ruling authorities of competitive tennis in their interpretation of the rule concerning player-wrangling of the sport. And it was a signed story by Mr. Tilden, following one of the Wimbledon matches, which resulted in his summary removal from the American team.

The United States Lawn Tennis association ruled that Tilden was reporting the match. Tilden claims he was only interpreting some of the action of the match in question. There is no way to tell, at this distance, what caused the row, because it is impossible to see the story in dispute.

But the United States Lawn Tennis association and Big Bill, ought to iron out their troubles, and stop this petty bickering which is doing tennis more harm than good. The truth is that, while the American organization outlaws player-wrangling, the French and other nations permit it, so that their players are allowed to do what America's are penalized for doing.

As this is not liable to reach the attention of the powers that be in Tennessee, it may be safe to state that the Jacksonville, Florida, physician who made a post-mortem examination of Miss Congo, said to have been the only female gorilla in captivity, says that her tamer organs could not be distinguished from those of a girl of twelve or fourteen, and that, three years ago, when she was about seven years old, Dr. Robert M. Yerkes, of the faculty of Yale, declared after tests that she had a brain equal to that of a six or seven-year-old child.

The Head of the Family.

In that merry melange of the stage a few years ago, The Mikado, there was a character known as Poo-Bah. He was everything from lord high executioner to chancellor of the exchequer. In relation to the present-day home, father is quite similar to this musical comedy character. Papa is the Poo-Bah of the household.

A Proprietor of the Estate he points with pride to the flowers, the fruit and the vegetables, but as Chief Gardener he kicks at the labor he has to perform. As Master of the Wardrobe he suggests that Mother could improve her clothes, but as Keeper of the Family Purse he compels her to observe strict economy in her purchases.

In his capacity as Keeper of the Household's Conscience he orders all members of the family to attend divine worship on Sunday, but as Director of Sports he repairs early to his favorite golf links. As Lord Chancellor he serves as a court of appeal in all cases of misbehavior, but as High Executioner it becomes his painful duty to spank Junior.

As Supreme Ruler of the Realm he issues many mandates, but as Prince Consort, he does what Mother tells him. As Royal Inspector of the Living Room he points disapprovingly at the dust on the piano, but as Custodian of the Collar he leaves things as they are. As Minister of Education he outlines instructive reading for the children, while as Head Criminologist he confines himself to mystery stories.

As Physician-in-General, he publishes edicts on what the family shall eat, while as Chief Fanner of Dishes he stuffs on things he knows will make him ill. As Royal Entertainer he continually suggests guests that should be invited to the family board, while as Quartermaster-in-Chief he groans over the grocery bill.

As Admiral of the Navy he monopolizes the bath tub, while as Taspayer Extraordinary he pulls against the extravagant consumption of water by others. As Keeper of the Kennel he is often fed to the dog under the table, but as Official Censor of Members, he rebukes the children for doing the same.

In his multiple capacities as Lord High This, Lord High That and Lord High Everything Else, it is not surprising at times that Father's greatest pleasure is a little nap.

Another Move for Lasting Peace.

President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg are anxious that the incumbent administration quit office next March 4 with its magnificent record enhanced by the ratification of a pact by the world powers which will forever outlaw war between its signatories, and which, quite naturally, would be a tremendous step forward in the effort toward universal peace.

No another world peace conference is discussed. It is proposed to hold this conference in Paris, and diplomats in advance of anything definite concerning it, venture the belief that such a party will be more far-reaching in importance than the Versailles gathering of 1919.

Now with all of the powers having formally approved Secretary Kellogg's plan to outlaw war it does not seem possible that anything can arise which will disrupt the move to secure a five-power agreement on the subject.

And what could be simpler than such a plan? Why should nations war with each other? The World War proved that it is a comparatively simple matter to sap the vitality and manhood of—not one nation—but all of them. So why should they not agree to outlaw war and meet in peaceful manner and like gentlemen around a table somewhere, settle their disputes.

Secretary Kellogg's plan, as we understand it, is not anything binding any nation to the League of Nations or any other tribunal which now is set up or which may be set up in the future. It simply is an international agreement outlawing war, just as nations might get together and outlaw any criminal, and agreeing to arbitration of disputes.

Shorn of its cumbersome phraseology, that seems to be the idea which the American secretary of state had in mind when he set about drafting his peace plan. And with the five world powers agreeing to it, in substance, at least, it would seem that Mr. Kellogg is on the way toward success. It is to be hoped that if a peace conference is called for this fall in Paris that this latest contribution to world peace from America will get the united support it merits everywhere.

We hear a lot about this or that "great danger" to America, but as a great danger to America communism is in a class by itself.

Rid Yourself of Fighting Instinct.

Certain objects in your home bring heated discussion.

You make no effort to avoid them.

When in a quarrelsome mood you are sure to mention them.

You know beforehand what will be the result, but you don't care.

Each quarrel on these subjects becomes more bitter, more violent.

After your fit of meanness has had vent and you have had time to think things over, you feel ashamed and resolve never to provoke another argument of this kind.

This is a good resolution if you keep it.

But sometimes you wonder why it is that after things have been so tranquil in your home for so long you seem to want a change. You want to stir things up.

There is a desire for a quarrel.

You can't explain it, you have never been able to see where any good ever came of your indulgence in periodic scrapping.

If you are sensible you will get rid of your combativeness in some other fashion.

Keep a punching bag in the attic, but spare the ones at home.

You will be happier, and others will enjoy life more.

Statue of Colonial Origin.

BY TEMPLE MANNING.

The sacred city of Copacabana, in Bolivia, South America, is the home of one of the most famous images on that continent. "Our Lady of Copacabana." In a large room, behind the altar, hidden in an alcove covered with a heavy curtain, and shielded by a silver railing, stands the statue. It is hardly more than three feet in height, but it is elaborately dressed, in silks and satins, and it bears on its head a large crown blazing with precious jewels.

The story runs that the sculptor, Tito Yupanqui, a descendant of the ruling Incas, carved the statue without having had any previous instruction in art. Indeed, the legend continues, the Virgin, herself, sat for the statue, inspiring the artist with her presence. And, of course, the portrait is, as a result, "collectively guaranteed to be accurate."

Before a Catholic is permitted to enter the room which contains the image, he must pay a small sum of money. And all around the walls of the chamber are offerings, ranging from the diamond-encrusted and gold-mounted pistols of General Santa Cruz, and the jewels of the Virgin, to the humblest of the poor.

MAYBE CRIMINALS ARE SUPERSTITIOUS.

Eat Pain Foods.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Fifteen chemical elements are required to maintain the body in health and to provide it proper nourishment. When I told this to a friend of mine and read him the list he said: "That sounds more like the inventory of a drug store than of the essential elements in the construction of a modern airplane."

Of these elements, the fats, sugar and starches we eat supply three. Five more are given by the protein foods—chief of which are lean meat and the white of eggs.

Of the other twelve are three—fluorine, iodine and silica—which are present in the body in very small quantities. The remaining nine chemical elements are minerals which are needed to give strength to the bones and to supply substance to the muscles. They furnish the salt of the fluids and juices of the body. Without such minerals the fluid part of the blood, the gastric juices and all the various secretions would be water alone. In that event they would not possess the acidity, alkalinity, or other qualities essential to the proper action of these body fluids.

Without lime and iron and phosphorus we could not go far in our growth and activity. In Russia and the central empire of Europe, the lack of milk during the war deprived the children of their chief supply of lime. As a result there were many victims who suffered softening of the bones and the development of rickets.

Without an abundance of lime during pregnancy the bones and teeth of the expectant mother are drawn upon and she suffers in consequence. She may never recover from the evil effects of this lack.

Carrots, turnips, cabbages and oranges are rich in lime. Apples contain a good deal. Milk and cheese are the most available sources of supply for the average person.

Iron is needed for the blood. It assists in the process of carrying of the life-giving oxygen. Egg yolk, whole wheat, dried beans and peas, spinach, dried prunes and the nuts are rich in iron.

Phosphorus is needed by every cell of the body. The bones and muscles, and particularly the nervous system, rely for it. Fortunately this element is found in the foods which are rich in iron and lime, so if one is supplied all are likely to be.

The nitrogen and sulphur are furnished by the protein foods and these elements are present in pretty constant proportions—that familiar old political formula "sixteen to one," is maintained here. Sixteen per cent. of nitrogen to one per cent. of sulphur is about the ratio in the common foods of this type.

To have good health you need not be rich and need not live at the Ritz. You can easily provide yourself with eggs, milk, good bread, the common vegetables I have named, and the simple fare which will give you bone, muscles, brain substance and well functioning organs. Then you may add the luxuries and the articles which tickle your palate.

ANSWERS TO HEALTHY QUESTIONS

H. M. R. Q.—What can be used in addition to toothpaste to whiten the teeth?

A.—If the teeth are cleaned three times a day with a good brush and dentifrice it should not be necessary to resort to anything else to make them clean and white. See your dentist—your teeth may need a prophylactic cleaning.

A. W. Q.—What would cause an apparently sound and healthy tooth to become abscessed at the root?

A.—This condition is due to infection.

W. C. W. Q.—I have a terrible swelling of the abdomen after eating, feeling very uncomfortable and accompanied by belching. What causes this and how can it be corrected?

A.—Probably due to poor digestion, causing the fermentation of food and consequent gases in the system. Watch the diet and be sure that the intestinal tract is kept clear. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1929, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

H. L. Q.—What is the cause of a bald spot the size of a fifty cent piece on the scalp of a young person? Apart from slight dandruff, the hair is thick, glossy and healthy-looking.

A.—This condition may be due to alopecia areata. For particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1929, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

COURTING THE FATE OF UZZAH

In Pittsburgh a few years ago, before chain newspapers invaded that domain of journalism, a newspaper of ancient estate and tradition, one of those sweet lavender and old lace affairs, changed hands. Thereupon the new proprietor plastered all the billboards of Pittsburgh with the boast:

THE B. E. Tabler home, 223 South Pierce st., Lima, was the setting for one of the attractive weddings of the season, when Miss Virginia Tabler became the bride of John Voorhees, son of Mrs. Emma U. Voorhees, East Church st., at 7 o'clock Saturday night. The Rev. E. K. Weaver, pastor of Trinity M. E. church, officiated at the marriage which was performed before a bank of roses and garden flowers.

The bride wore an ensemble of navy blue crepe de chine with accessories to coordinate. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Mr. and Mrs. Voorhees were attended by Miss Betty Laplacott, bridesmaid, and Miss Vetter, maid of honor.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. L. E. Justus, South Pierce st. The couple left for a motor trip to Detroit and Toledo, after which they will be at home in Lima. Marjorie Voorhees and George Uhler.

Mrs. Voorhees is a musician and has studied violin for the past year at the College of Music, Cincinnati. She has been playing with the Red Bird Orchestra. She is in charge of classical advertising for the Lima Star, and Mr. Voorhees is connected with the advertising department of The Lima Star.

What Will you do

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy; a remedy for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. However medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that baby becomes fretful, or restless. Castoria is never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

LAST WORD

Just the last word in "at home" appeared in this exclusive, long-gone which these people wear so becomingly. It is of white brocade crepe, cut in robe fashion and snugly wrapped about the waist and hips. The large black tassel is smart and the only ornament on the gown, which is equally appropriate for lounging in one's boudoir.

may come to America on a good-will trip. These men risked their lives saving members of the Noble expedition. Now they continue the risk, searching for Amundsen, while other countries look on.

IT is to be hoped that these brave Russians will be well received. This country should try, say for a week, to forget that some Wall Street simpletons bought bonds from the Czar, when a microcephalic moron might have known better.

Soviet Russia does not pay the Czar's debt. Why should it? This nation would not have paid King George's debts after we unloaded that personage.

MEXICO talks of revolt among agrarians, a battle of farmers against city workers and their unions. There was more than one similar revolt, or counter revolution of peasants, in the great French revolution.

But intelligence in Mexico now, as in France in the seventeenth century, is in the cities, and Calles has the army. If it sticks, the agrarian revolt will mean little. Farmers cannot deal with machine guns and airplanes.
